2016 - THE YEAR OF BIOSECURITY Communications & Disease Response

Who is the the point person in your barn if a horse gets sick? Proper communication (notification) is the first step in protecting the health of all horses in the facility according to the new National Farm-Level Biosecurity standard.

More Information for your barn or racing stable is available in the new National Farm-Level Biosecurity standard now posted online.

See unit five for information about communication and disease response for preventing further spread by separation, identifying others who may have been exposed, restricting movement and monitoring...

CALLING ALL VOLUNTEERS

Help EquiMania! Celebrate 10 years at the Royal!

Promote your barn in our booth by joining our team of EquiMania! volunteers! You can bring a barn poster or banner and brochures to display at our exit and we will provide a sign at our entrance thanking your barn for providing volunteers. You may also wear your barn shirts, jackets and hats during the four hour volunteer shift.

Volunteer at EquiMania!

We will also be at Horse Capades and the EX in Toronto this year. 3 great events to volunteer at! Come yourself or bring a team!

Visit our EquiMania! page for more details or email Chris at eq4kids@uoguelph.ca for your barn sign up sheet.

HOOFPRIENTS TRIBUTE Trinket - June 1986 - April 2016

In memory of Farewell's Trinket, beloved pony of Natalie Intven.

After 20 years of magical friendship, with happy days of training, showing, trail riding, and quiet moments together in the pasture, we say goodbye to this sweet girl. Trinket was a gentle soul with a big heart, who taught so much about partnership, trust, aging gracefully, and most of all love.
