Barn Building with Help of Equine Guelph-Management of the Equine Environment

Last summer, armed with all the information from the course, my husband and I built a barn on our property in Alberta. It was a massive undertaking!

I cannot thank you enough for everything I learned - which made such a difference to our approach to the barn building, particularly the interior.

THANK YOU TO ORGANIZERS AND PARTICIPANTS OF TLAER TRAINING

Both Technical Large Animal Rescue courses, featuring fire safety, hosted recently by Equine Guelph were a wonderful success!

Link to CTV news coverage

On April 25 & April 26 at Mohawk Racetrack, Dr. Rebecca Gimenez of TLAER, Inc., PhD. covered topics including incidents involving starting gates, loose horses and on-track injuries. Best practice responses appropriate to trailer and stall incidents were also covered and fire prevention and evacuation procedures were featured in detail.

High praise was given by the fire fighters who took the first responder training in large animal rescue and fire rescue held at the Meaford Fire Department Training Centre April 28 - April 30th.

Watch for further press releases coming soon!

HORSE MOVEMENT & INTERACTION STUDY

Participants being recruited

Horses and barn workers are constantly interacting with each other. However, little is known about horse contact patterns and how contact patterns might contribute to disease spread.

Tags will be attached to the halters of horses, and worn as lanyards on barn staff, to measure and track contacts for 2 one week periods.
