Future Footing & Training Decisions

Research contributing to knowledge of the interaction between hoof & ground

Would your choice of footing change if you spent some time looking at the massive collection of data in the laboratory of Dr. Jeff Thomason? How about the way you train on that surface?

Take a look at these two Ontario Veterinary College (OVC) studies:

- Effects of Surface and Animal Size on Hoof Loading in Horses
- Asymmetrical limb loading in TB racehorses as a possible cause for injury
